OVERVIEW

The 2140-630X is an expandable plastic wrist coil fitted with a 7/8" nickel-plated split ring. It slips over the wrist and holds keys, a hole-punched ID badge or an access card on the ring; the coil stretches when you reach for a lock or a reader and pulls back against the wrist when you let go, so nothing is left dangling or set down. It is stocked in black (2140-6301), green (2140-6304) and red (2140-6306). Choose a wrist coil over a neck lanyard or a belt reel when hands are busy, pockets are not practical and the credential only has to reach a reader, not be read by a person - housekeeping, plant floor, lab, pool, valet and delivery work.
