OVERVIEW

The antimicrobial lanyard is a great badge holder option for higher risk germ contaminated environments such as schools, medical facilities and laboratories. Since these lanyards contain nanoparticle-coated fibers that help to inhibit growth of germs and kill odor causing bacteria, they are a popular choice for hospitals, doctor's offices, laboratories, food service, building and healthcare industries. Great for a nurse, physician or phlebotomist technician or Teacher. Hold or display your badge holder or clip to your Face Mask.
